what went wrong in free french relations with americans during world war two two peoples presumably sharing a common cause in a war to defeat the axis powers often found themselves locked in bitter disputes that exposed fundamental differences in outlook and intentions creating a profound misunderstanding or mécontentement that was a major source of franco american conflict during the war and has persisted since then the site for this dispute was the south pacific colony of new caledonia by documenting carefully french policy toward the american presence in new caledonia during the war the author demonstrates the existence of a deep seated suspicion fear even paranoia about the americans that colored almost every phase of free french policy revising traditional views the author lays bare the roots of the antagonism which stem from perceptions and biases france s effort to maintain its presence as a great world power is the subject of myopic grandeur a study of french foreign policy initiatives in the far east from world war i until the conclusion of world war ii while the major trends in european integration have been well researched and constitute key elements of narratives about its value and purpose the crises of integration and their effects have not yet attracted sufficient attention this volume with original contributions by leading german scholars suggests that crises of integration should be seen as engines of progress throughout the history of european integration rather than as expressions of failure and regression a widely held assumption it therefore throws new light on the current crises in european integration and provides a fascinating panorama of how challenges and responses were guiding the process during its first five decades this study explores jean monnet s european project and his work with international political problems and institutions from world war i to the 1960s the author relies on a close and comparative reading of monnet s notes and documents placed in their political and historical context
