often described inadequately as the john lennon or bob dylan of brazil caetano veloso is unquestionably one of the most influential and beloved of brazilian artists and has developed a worldwide following now in his long awaited memoir he tells the heroic story of how in the late sixties he and a group of friends from the north eastern state of bahia created tropicalismo the movement that shook brazilian culture and civic order and pushed a nation then on the margins of world politics and economics into the pop avant garde tropical truth recounts the story of a country its most subversive generation and the odyssey of a brilliant constellation of artists by turns erudite and playful dreamlike and confessional tropical truth is a revelation of brazil's most famous artist one of the greatest popular composers of the past century what makes a song sound foreign what makes it sound american or brazilian caetano veloso's 2004 american songbook album a foreign sound is a meditation on these questions but in truth they were questions he'd been asking throughout his career properly heard the album throws a wrench into received ideas regarding the global hegemony of us popular music and also what constitutes the brazilian sound this book takes listeners back through some of veloso's earlier considerations of american popular music and forward to his more recent experiments in order to explore his take on the relationship between us and brazilian musical idioms 33 1 3 global a series related to but independent from 33 1 3 takes the format of the original series of short music based books and brings the focus to music throughout the world with initial volumes focusing on japanese and brazilian music the series will also include volumes on the popular music of australia oceania europe africa the middle east and more in autonomy nicholas brown theorizes the historical and theoretical argument for art's autonomy from its acknowledged character as a commodity refusing the position that the distinction between art and the commodity has collapsed brown demonstrates how art can in confronting its material determinations suspend the logic of capital by demanding interpretive attention he applies his readings of marx hegel adorno and jameson to a range of literature photography music television and sculpture from cindy sherman's photography and the novels of ben lerner and jennifer egan to the wire and the music of the white stripes he demonstrates that through their attention and commitment to form such artists turn aside the determination posed by the demand of the market thereby defeating the foreclosure of meaning entailed in commodification in so doing he offers a new theory of art that prompts a rethinking of the relationship between art critical theory and capitalism
