welcome to our hillbrow is an exhilarating and disturbing ride through the chaotic and hyper real zone of hillbrow microcosm of all that is contradictory alluring and painful in the changing south african psyche everything is there the shattered dreams of youth sexuality and its unpredictable costs aids xenophobia suicide the omnipotent violence that often cuts short the promise of young people and the africanist understanding of the life continuum that does not end with death but flows on into an ancestral realm infused with the rhythms of the inner city pulsebeat this courageous novel is compelling in its honesty and its broad vision which links hillbrow rural tiragalong and oxford it spills out the guts of hillbrow living with the same energy and intimate knowledge with which the drum writers wrote sophiatown into being one number each year includes annual bibliography of commonwealth literature andre p brink s imaginings of sand zakes mda s ways of dying j m coetzee s disgrace and phaswane mpe s welcome to our hillbrow a black south journal of arts and letters a central text both in dickens s career and in the history of the novel itself bleak house provides students and teachers occasion to discuss victorian social concerns involving law crime family education and money and to learn about every stratum of english society from the aristocracy to the homeless but the sheer size of the novel and its narrative intricacy pose pedagogical obstacles the essays in this volume offer instructors an array of practical strategies for use in the classroom some describe courses organized exclusively around bleak house others offer ideas for teaching a single scene or topic in the novel the book opens with part 1 materials which assesses editions and provides a guide to the wealth of resources available to instructors including reference works critical studies and background readings in print and on the the essays in part 2 approaches discuss nineteenth century british culture and victorian social texts present ways to teach specific scenes patterns and problems in the novel describe intertextual approaches and detail specific courses taught in different settings and at a variety of educational levels brooding clouds is a posthumous collection of short stories and poems that were written as a prequel to phaswane mpe s acclaimed bestseller welcome to our hillbrow in these thematically linked stories we meet the organic roots of the emblematic characters and concerns of the later novel written with an expressive simplicity that evokes the rural soul of tiny tiragalong and its neighboring village of nobody mpe s stories speak out strongly on issues close to his heart the poems form a tandem narrative that is gritty topical observant and which articulates the dilemmas of inner city living along with the broader conundrums of tiragalong hillbrow and south africa the brooding clouds collection is a gem of creative achievement that stands as a poignant tribute to the tremendous talent of a writer cut down much too soon urbanization and african cultures affirms the centrality of african cities in the modernization of african cultures showing how many have become firmly established in their settings and reflecting the impact of globalization cities are presented as centers of culture and power and as powerful agencies that provide opportunities to generate new ideas the book shows how cities empower africans with the opportunity to assert themselves to use culture to assert individual freedom and dignity to articulate ideas of ethnicity and group solidarity to portray class and even to show off poverty v aluable attention is paid to cities and urban phenomena off the paths beaten by most western trained scholars african studies review this book successfully introduces readers to a range of cases that show the creative translocal processes taking place on the ground in african cities the international journal of african historical studies the authors approached about eighty journalists and writers based in johannesburg and asked them to write short pieces about the city in which they work and live they did not specify form or style the contributors were free to express themselves however they wanted to out of this has emerged fifty odd pieces of writing that reflect aspects of the city idiosyncratic reactions to living and working here appreciations of small and big things some poems some criticisms all will find resonance with jo burg jozi residents and all will be enlightening and entertaining to others hoping to learn something about the metropolis amazingly many of the contributors expressed how much they enjoy being in jo burg jozi good news for a city that consistently suffers from bad press both editors and contributors gave their work and time free of charge all royalties are donated to a local charitable organisation
