a critical guide to the impact of internet2 the enhanced internet now in development covering the extraordinary ways it will change america's campuses and how companies must prepare for the new networking environment

a clear systematic road map to effective campus leadership development building academic leadership capacity gives institutions the knowledge they need to invest in the next generation of academic leaders with a clear generalizable systematic approach this book provides insight into the elements of successful academic leadership and the training that makes it effective readers will explore original research that facilitates systematic continuous program development augmented by the authors own insight drawn from experience establishing such programs numerous examples of current campus programs illustrate the concepts in action and reflection questions lead readers to assess how they can apply these concepts to their own programs the academic leader is the least studied and most misunderstood management position in america demands for accountability and the complexities of higher education leadership are increasing and institutions need ways to shape leaders at the department chair dean and executive levels of all functions and responsibilities this book provides a road map to an effective development program whether the goal is to revamp an existing program or build one from the ground up readers will learn to develop campus leadership programs in a more systematic manner examine approaches that have been proven effective at other institutions consider how these approaches could be applied to your institution give leaders the skills they need to overcome any challenge the field of higher education offers limited opportunity to develop leaders so institutions must invest in and grow campus leaders themselves all development programs are not created equal so it's important to have the most effective methods in place from day one for the institution seeking a better way to invest in the next generation of campus leaders building academic leadership capacity is a valuable resource in this stimulating collection of stories ten academic leaders reflect from personal experience on leadership in place an emergent mode of leadership that brings people together in order to effect organizational change originating from diverse sectors of the academy each of the book's contributors brings a fresh and deeply human perspective on academic leadership theories and their effective applications leadership in place calls for a shift in attitude about leaders and leadership it departs from the hierarchical view that academic leadership flows from a leadership position and instead embraces a more lateral view where leadership roles are available to everyone it calls for a rethinking of how our colleges and universities are led and organized by discussing the following importance of strong academic communities in preserving the integrity of academic programs empowerment of part time faculty by combining adaptive and transformative learning models opportunities for benefits of and challenges in collaborative leadership problems that can emerge in times of leadership transitions and possible solutions concept of leadership as an attribute of the many rather than the few advocating for academics to reengage and recommit to their institutions the book creates an agenda for what higher education must do to create conditions under which leadership in place is the norm rather than the exception the avalanche of day to day responsibilities facing those in community colleges threatens to bury ethical intent this book addresses the importance of ethical leadership and explores real world applications so that community college leaders can develop the institutional savvy to be extraordinary ethical leaders written for community college faculty staff presidents and trustees who are committed to being ethical leaders this book is divided into two sections the first provides brief theoretical foundations for ethical leadership and relates those foundations to daily practice the second explores in depth daily practice for ethical leaders contents include virtue theory and leadership theory plato's republic and the ethical leader considerations of power influence and cultural norms the role of the president why presidents and trustees should care about ethics professional ethical identity development ethical leadership a faculty obligation the interface of ethics and courage in the life of a chief academic officer threats to ethical leadership leading from the head and the heart transformational leadership and ethical dilemmas presidential support for civic engagement and leadership education a guide to ethical decision making by presidents and boards the consequences of compromised ethical identity development from strategy to change shows how to take the next step after a strategic plan has been formulated the authors clearly show how to implement a strategic plan that will meet the myriad challenges of today's complex higher education environment and spell success for the academy it is amazing that while sports teams of colleges and universities meticulously plan their contests against their opponents their institutions administrators don't spend nearly enough time or effort in creating and implementing a strategy institutions of higher education seem to be missing the requisite tools to develop and activate their play book with this new age of globally available real time information it becomes increasingly more essential to have a map to help go over and around obstacles avoid the ever present pitfalls and effectively aid in selecting the best route
