unlike most screenwriting guides that generally analyze several aspects of screenwriting constructing dialogue is devoted to a more analytical treatment of certain individual scenes and how those scenes were constructed to be the most highly dramatic vis á vis their dialogue in the art of screenwriting one cannot separate how the scene is constructed from how the dialogue is written they are completely interwoven each chapter deals with how a particular screenwriter approached dialogue relative to that particular scene s construction from citizen kane to the fisher king the storylines have changed but the techniques used to construct scene and dialogue have fundamentally remained the same the author maintains that there are four optimum requirements that each scene needs in order to be successful maintaining scenic integrity advancing the storyline developing character and eliciting conflict and engaging emotionally comparing the original script and viewing the final movie the student is able to see what exactly was being accomplished to make both the scene and the dialogue work effectively essay from the year 2008 in the subject film science grade 1 3 humboldt university of berlin anglistik amerikanistik course postmodern cinema language english abstract by mid november 1999 the 15 million production american beauty 1999 by sam mendes had already earned 65 6 million it won five academy awards and three golden globes and provoked a lot of discussion after its release it presents the story of lester burnham who at the age of 42 realises that he has lost his joy in life his marriage to carolyn burnham just lasts to keep up appearances he cannot fulfil himself in his job and his relationship to his daughter is rather distanced and problematic consequently he encounters himself right in a stage of midlife crisis among others it won the award for best camera which is not surprising when we consider all the interesting shots and camera angles and the whole mise en scène but the most eye catching part of the composition is the contrast of colours whereas in nearly the whole movie we find restrained pastel colours like white grey and blue as the dominant ones for example in the interior of lester s house the colour red in specific scenes is the most outstanding one it is used for very special objects as for the entrance of lester s house and the red roses that accompany every of lester s fantasies about angela a school friend of his daughter jane in the following i will show how the colour red can be understood as a symbol for lester s lost and newly emerging dreams firstly i will briefly demonstrate how the red entrance of his house begins to make lester aware of his restrictedness and loss of freedom as well as the increasing disintegration of his family then secondly i will switch to the most powerful image of the movie the red rose it has a different meaning for lester depending on if it is seen with carolyn or with angela whereas with carolyn the roses remind lester even more of the decay of his family and their thwarted love the rose petals that he imagines escorting angela are symbols of his newly emerged sexual desire he feels engaged to change his monotonous life and the red colour accompanies his transition and reminds him of his dreams
