marshall s commentary on the book of acts is a contribution to the tyndale new testament commentaries a popular study aid designed to help the general bible reader understand clearly what the text actually says and what it means without going into scholarly technicalities who are the people of god luke s purposes in the acts of the apostles are to identify the church to establish the legitimacy of its gospel and to demonstrate that god was an active force in history he wanted to show that the communities of jewish and gentile christians are the true heirs of god s promises to israel he gives the history of the early church from the last decades of the first century as the communities become separated from their jewish origins and paul plays the lead role acts offers an apologetic for the mixed mission of the church to jews and gentiles luke was an eyewitness to some of what he reports but his authorship and views have been questioned this is a theological interpretation of the history of the church within history luke is an artist a narrator rather than a systematic theologian but writes about the roles of god christ and the holy spirit and of the church a new landmark in evangelical scholarship on the book of acts fifteen years in the making this comprehensive commentary by david peterson offers thorough exegesis and exposition of the acts of the apostles drawing on recent scholarship in the fields of narrative criticism and theological analysis incorporating insights into historical social background and investigating why luke presents his material in the way he does in view of how long the book of acts is over a thousand verses peterson s commentary is admirably economical yet meaty his judgments according to don carson are always sane evenhanded and judicious even while unpacking exegetical details peterson constantly scans the horizon keeping the larger picture in mind with its solid exegesis astute theological analysis and practical contemporary application peterson s acts of the apostles is a commentary that preachers teachers and students everywhere will want and need
