preface this project started some years ago when the nuffield foundation kindly gave a grant for writing a pro grammed text to use with service courses in statistics the work carried out by mrs joan hine and professor g b wetherill at bath university together with some other help from time to time by colleagues at bath university and elsewhere testing was done at various colleges and universities and some helpful comments were received but we particularly mention king edwards school bath who provided some sixth formers as guinea pigs for the first testing the bishop lonsdale college of education and bradford university 2 our objectives in the text are to take students to the use of standard t f and x tests with some introduction to regression assuming no knowledge of statistics to start and to do this in such a way that students attain some degree of understanding of the underlying reasoning service courses are often something of a problem to statistics departments the new cambridge english course is a four level course for learners of english originally published in 1945 this title was intended mainly for use by teachers wishing to test children from ages 2 8 in order to establish their intelligence based on feedback to the author this revised edition also includes tests for children up to the age of 15 the tests were used to give a teacher some idea of how much could be expected of each child so that the class when practicable could be divided into groups of varying abilities which could proceed at paces suited to their respective capacities it was felt that if inborn intellectual deficiencies could be identified at an early age the children could have special treatment or in certain cases be placed in a special school rather than be potentially written off as lazy today this can be read and enjoyed in its historical context the collections of the advocates library with the exception of its legal books and manuscripts were given by the advocates to the national library of scotland in 1925 billed in early issues as a practical journal of industrial progress this monthly covers a broad range of topics in engineering manufacturing mechanics architecture building etc later issues say it is devoted to the advancement and diffusion of practical knowledge
