this collection of essays critically engages with factors relating to black urban life and cultural representation in the post civil rights era using ice t and his myriad roles as musician actor writer celebrity and industrialist as a vehicle through which to interpret and understand the african american experience over the past three decades african americans have faced a number of new challenges brought about by changes in the political economic and social structure of america furthermore this vastly changed social landscape has produced a number of resonant pop cultural trends that have proved to be both innovative and admired on the one hand and contentious and divisive on the other. Ice T's iconic and multifarious career maps these shifts. This is the first book that taken as a whole looks at a black cultural icon's manipulation of or manipulation by so many different forms simultaneously. The result is a fascinating series of tensions arising from Ice T's ability to inhabit conflicting pop cultural roles including hardcore gangsta rapper and dedicated philanthropist, author of controversial song 'Cop Killer' and network television cop, self-proclaimed pimp and reality television house husband. As the essays in this collection detail, Ice T's chameleonic public image consistently tests the accepted parameters of black cultural production and in doing so illuminates the contradictions of a society erroneously dubbed post-racial.

This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 13th International Conference on Asia Pacific Digital Libraries (ICADL 2011) held in Beijing, China, in October 2011. The 33 revised full papers, 8 short papers and 9 poster papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 136 submissions. The topics covered are digital archives and preservation, information mining and extraction, metadata catalogue, distributed repositories and cloud computing, social network and personalized service, mobile services and electronic publishing, multimedia, digital libraries, information retrieval and tools and systems for digital library.

The field of library and information science (LIS) is constantly evolving and adapting to the changing needs and expectations of users, society and technology. This book provides trends and innovations that are emerging in library and information science with a multidisciplinary approach.

Music has the universal power to move individuals, peoples and societies. Music is one of the most important signifiers of cultural change. It is also most significant for youth movements and youth cultures. While Islam has a historically and traditionally rich culture of music, religious controversy on the topic of music is still ongoing. However, young Muslims in today's globalised world seek pop cultural tools such as music and particularly hip hop music as a way of exploring and expressing their manifold identities whilst challenging Islamophobia, stigma and racism on the one hand and traditional and religious challenges on the other hand. In this volume following an international conference with the same title scholars and young academics from a variety of disciplines seek to explore and highlight the phenomena surrounding the two somewhat artificially separated realms of music and religion the contributions not only look into different genres of music from tunisian metal over german female hip hop to egyptian folk but take the reader on a journey from continent to countries to cities and rural areas and thus give space and time to a widely neglected area of research that of muslim popular culture and young muslims
